

Community Action Agency raising money to keep local residents warm through "Heat-A-Home" campaign

Published: Wednesday, February 22, 2012, 10:30 AM

By Tarryl Jackson | tjackso1@mlive.com

JACKSON -- Community Action Agency is raising money to help low-income residents stay warm through its Heat-A-Home campaign. The donations to Heat-A-Home will help families in Jackson, Lenawee and Hillsdale counties avoid utility shut-off and pay for heating expenses.

In addition, the nonprofit is teaming up with Consumers Energy to host a Walk for Warmth on Friday to raise awareness about the importance of utility assistance for low-income families.

The walk will start at 11:30 a.m. at the front steps of CMS Energy's headquarters, 1 Energy Plaza, and Community Action Agency's CEO Marsha Kreucher will help kick off the event.

For more information, call the Community Action Agency at 784-4800 or visit www.caajlh.org.

© 2012 MLive.com. All rights reserved.